REMEMBERING 7 JULY 2005

On 7 July 2005, London endured one of its darkest days. The coordinated bombings claimed 52 lives and injured hundreds more, leaving a wound that reshaped our sense of safety and unity as a nation.

Today, we remember with both sorrow and purpose. That day became a defining moment for the security industry, a reminder that vigilance, preparation, and compassion must go hand in hand.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME SESSION 4

The 4th Session of the Leadership and Development Programme, supported by the K4 Group of Companies and led by the Sharifa Ibrahim Foundation, focused on “Values and Integrity in Leadership.”

Held with key representation from Arsalan Khan, Gary McConnell, and Saicharan Reddy, the session highlighted how ethical principles shape strong and effective leadership.

SUPERVISOR LEVEL 3 SESSION

K4 Training Company hosted a Supervisor Level 3 workshop led by Kenn Thorogood, bringing together site supervisors for a focused session on leadership, site management, and real-time decision-making.
